The first step in making wine is harvesting. It is the grapes which contain all the required esters, tannins and acids that make delicious wine. The moment at which the grapes are picked from the vineyard is what actually determines the sweetness, flavour and acidity of the wine. The first step in making wine is harvesting.

When it first appeared, the layout of "First Steps in Winemaking" was quite unique. After an admirable discussion of the basic principles of home winemaking, Berry then presented his recipes on the basis of the month in which the principal ingredients are readily available at market or are typically harvested in the British home garden.
