Scene One – Food Inc. The Film starts by outlining the unrealities of the modern American supermarket, where there are no seasons and the meat has no bones. Then a bold statement – there is a deliberate veil drawn over the realities of the food production chain, which is basically a factory system, an industrialised system. The rest of the documentary is devoted to outlining the downsides ...

a fantastic eye-opener of a movie, which shows sides of the food industry from different points of view: the farmers, the consumers, the workers. But not a comment from the multicorporations that are actually responsible for all the changes that have happened! that alone speaks volumes. farmers being sued over ridiculous reasons but can't defend themselves because they can't afford the ever ...
