Consequently, auditors became responsible for auditing the business entity itself rather than simply relying upon management verification routines. Following this, auditing by inspection and observation became the norm. Even as automated accounting systems began to appear in the 1950s, manual auditing procedures continued to be used exclusively.

Evolution of Auditing: From the Traditional Approach to ...
The history of modern auditing coincides conveniently with the history of The CPA Journal. The 1930s not only saw the NYSSCPA begin publication of what would become the Journal—it also witnessed the establishment of public company auditing, of the recognition of the central role of generally accepted accounting principles, and the beginning and slow evolution of auditing standards and the ...
