Value maximization methods are based on forming an estimator of V(d) = E d Y and then directly maximization [10, 12, 13], and structural mean models . We give a version of outcome weighted learning in the subsequent section. Estimation of Optimal Dynamic Treatment Regimes Common approaches to constructing a dynamic treatment regime from data, such as Q-learning, employ non-smooth functionals of the data. Therefore, simple inferential tasks such as constructing a...
