History : Glimpses of Indian History by Shankarappa N from Vijayi Bhava DCE2-????? ?????? The Gamal By Ciaran Collins

Gamal, is an outsider and probably the most observant narrator ever. The book is about Charlie and his two dear friends, Sinead and James. Through Charlie’s eyes you see Sinead and James as the very best and grow to love them as well. Charlie, who perhaps has Asperger’s (?) is withdrawn but extremely intelligent.

The Gamal by Ciarán Collins

The Gamal is an emotional roller-coaster from cover to cover. Collins (shortlisted for Irish Time Newcomer of the Year) captures the life of modern rural Ireland amazingly and develops a story that will keep you hooked and guessing until the final page. A must read!

Collins is in a great Irish story-telling tradition going back to Roddy Doyle, Sean O’Faolain and Flann O’Brien” – Gavin Esler “Ciarán Collins’s The Gamal is the story of an outsider, Charlie, a 25-year-old social misfit who might be violent, a kind of Grendel, misunderstood and underestimated. As is usually the case with outsiders, though, Charlie has an uncommonly clear view of everyone in the village.

The Gamal, by Ciarán Collins

The Gamal sprawls to more than 450 pages, but the unflagging ingenuity of Ciaran Collins’s writing justifies its length. He exists somewhere in a literary territory between Patrick McCabe and Roddy Doyle, but he is very much his own man and this is a cracking debut, as moving as it is entertaining * Independent on Sunday *

The Gamal by Ciaran Collins
Charlie has a story to tell, about his best friends Sinead and James and the bad things that happened. But he can't tell it yet, at least not 'til he's worked out where the beginning is. Because is the beginning long ago when Sinead first spoke up for him after Charlie got in trouble at school for the millionth time?

"Like Haddon's Christopher Boone, the narrator of Ciaran Collins's remarkable first novel, The Gamal, has been encouraged by a mental health professional to write his story for therapeutic purposes. Charlie McCarthy, 25, is known in the West Cork village of Ballyronan as "the gamal," short for "gamalog," a term for a fool or simpleton rarely heard beyond the Gaeltacht regions of Ireland.
