The Heart Of The Apostle

The Heart of the Apostle (softcover) "Brethren, my heart's desire and prayer to God for Israel is that they may be saved" (Romans 10:1). Why a commentary on only three chapters of the book of Romans, and what is so important about this part of the scripture? The Heart of the Apostle shows that Romans 9 through 11 may be the most important chapters in all scripture for understanding the heart of Paul, the apostle to the gentiles, as it pertained to Israel, his "brethren according to the flesh."

An apostle has a deep and intimate relationship with Jesus. Someone who knows God – the heart of God and the plans of God and thus is passionate regarding the purpose of God to seek and save the lost. The apostle walks in the “Spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of the Lord Jesus Christ” (Ephesians 1:17) and receives revelation – new understanding of old truths – and expresses them in relevant and practical ways in the teaching of God’s Word.

I believe that the apostolic heart craves the return of The Lord and produces a ministry that stirs up love and longing in the heart of The Bride. (Revelations 22 v 17). In this atmosphere, the fruit of holiness and hope rises up and dispels the nonsensical fear that so often infects various teaching regarding End Times.

Bruce believes that the heart of Pauline teaching is that true religion is not a matter of rules and regulations, that Christ makes us all one in Him, that people matter more than things, principles, and causes (not sure about this one, I would want to qualify it), and that unfair discrimination against others is an offense to God.

Only people with a special heart have the calling of an apostle or missionary. They must exhibit a selfless desire to care for those they are sent to share the Gospel with. Proverbs 16:18 reminds us that pride precedes a fall, something that could prove extremely dangerous for one in a foreign land sharing the Gospel of Jesus Christ. 1 Thessalonians 2 provides a glimpse into the selfless prideless heart of Paul towards those he was called to share the Gospel with and provides a pattern for ...

The apostle Thomas is often referred to as "Doubting Thomas" because he refused to believe that Jesus had risen from the dead until he saw and touched Christ's physical wounds. As far as disciples go, however, history has dealt Thomas a bum rap. After all, each of the 12 apostles, except John, abandoned Jesus during his trial and death at Calvary.

The distinguishing signs of an apostle need to be known by all of us so we're not deceived by false signs, wonders and mighty deeds. Also, the heart of the Apostle Paul is seen in these verses and should be the heart of every pastor, what love he had for God's people and our Lord Jesus Christ. The more he loved the less he was loved, but he pressed on.
