~~The Overspent American: Why We Want What We Don't Need~~

The Overspent American explores why so many of us feel materially dissatisfied, why we work staggeringly long hours and yet walk around with ever-present mental "wish lists" of things to buy or get, and why Americans save less than virtually anyone in the world. Unlike many experts, Harvard economist Juliet B. Schor does not blame consumers' lack of self-discipline.

The Cosby Show's house and lifestyle was accurate. She was an attorney and he was an Obstetrician. One of the best lines from that show was the daughter complaining to the mother about how "rich" they were and how that made it hard for her to make friends (something to that effect). And the mother responds, "We're not rich."

Schor's goal is to define the variables that predict overspending among Americans, and thereby to illuminate why the trend to live beyond our means has increased so rapidly in recent years. Her examinations also suggest a variety of steps we can take to make ourselves happier (since, make no mistake,

The Overspent American: Why We Want What We Don't Need (1999) In this book, Schor explores the social and cultural processes that drive individuals to spending and eventually debt. She analyzes that consumers are spending more than they did in the past. As a result, she observes that saving rates have been on a decline.
