You probably won't like everything, but it's all worth reading. Price-wise it's great value at £2.39 (at the time of my writing.) There seem to be more modern stories in this collection than in the first one of this series. This is a good thing because in some ways an apocalypse story set in the 1950s is less believable than one set in the 2010s.
